

One Smart Move! Money Management Education Schedule - August through December 2009

These workshops are brought to you by specialists in financial education.

They are free, unless a charge is noted. Please register at least two days prior to the workshop date.

Money Smart - a 10-hour series covering spending plans, saving, credit, consumer protection issues, financial institutions and accounts. Qualifies as an IDA-required financial education course. Participants may attend the full series to receive a certificate or simply attend the classes of interest. Offered by Extension, Urban League, War On Poverty, and Community Action Agency.

Get Checking - a 6-hour class for managing checking accounts. Completion of this course qualifies you to open an account at a participating financial institution if you have been denied opening an account, want to learn how to avoid fees on current accounts, or have never had an account before and want to do it right. Taught by Duval County Extension Service. This class is FREE in 2009 due to financial assistance from the U.S. Treasury Dept. Community Financial Access Pilot of Jacksonville.

Home Buyer Education - Before you purchase, find out about the process. Avoid predatory lending and learn to make wise choices. Cost: $50.00.

Managing in Tough Times - When times get tough financially, the tough PLAN their spending and saving. Attend this class to develop your personal financial plan. This class also qualifies as an education class for those in bankruptcy. Justice Dept. Certificate issued for a small fee. Call for more info.
